- “fraudulent practice” means a misrepresentation of facts in order to influence a procurement process or the execution of a contract to the detriment of the Procuring entity and/or the Government of Kenya, and includes collusive practices among bidders (prior to or after submission of tenders) designed to establish prices at artificial, non-competitive levels and to deprive the Procuring entity of the benefits of free and open competition.

Any attempt by a candidate or bidder to obtain confidential information, enter into unlawful agreements with competitors or influence the committee of the Procuring entity during the process of examining, clarifying, evaluating and comparing tenders will lead to the rejection of his/her candidacy or tender and may result in administrative penalties (e.g. suspension). When putting forward a tender, the candidate or tenderer shall declare that he is not affected by any potential conflict of interest and has no particular link with other tenderers or parties involved in the project. Should such a situation arise during performance of the contract, the tenderer must immediately inform Procuring entity.

The contractor/tenderer must at all times act impartially and as a faithful adviser in accordance with the code of conduct of his profession. He shall refrain from making public statements about the project or services without the Procuring entity's prior approval. He may not commit the Procuring entity in any way without its prior written consent.

The contractor/tenderer shall refrain from any relationship likely to compromise its independence or that of its staff. If the contractor/tenderer ceases to be independent, the Procuring entity may, regardless of injury, terminate the contract without further notice and without the contractor/tenderer having any claim to compensation.
